

Gospel goggles reflection questions

Putting on “gospel goggles” refers to the practice of training yourself to see the world through the lens of the gospel. The good news changes everything, and it can especially change how you see the people in your life. But seeing people through gospel goggles requires practice.

Take a few minutes each day to think about someone in your life through a gospel lens. To help you get started, we created four reflection questions. Take some time to pray and write out your answers, keeping in mind the person you want to talk with about God.

1. What do you love about this person?

2. In what ways have you seen sin affect their life?

3. If they began a relationship with Jesus, how do you imagine that would tangibly impact their life?

4. How can you demonstrate or communicate God’s love to this person?
